Broadcastingcable.com (12/17) noted a GW study regarding Freedom of Information Act requests.

Tradingmarkets.com (12/17) noted GW’s Institute for Spirituality and Health in an article regarding the relationships of faith and prayer to healing.

The Washington Post (12/20) mentioned GW’s School of Public Health and Health Services in an article regarding DC’s efforts at reducing infant mortality.

Homesabroad.co.uk (12/20) noted GW in an article regarding the “Sustainable Destinations 2007” survey.

The Hill (12/20), digital50.com (12/19), cnsnews.com (12/20), News.yahoo.com (12/21), and The Washington Times (12/27) noted the GW Battleground Poll.

Euroinvester.co.uk (12/19) noted GW’s development of Square 54 in an article regarding Kettler’s steady growth and in a separate article (12/19) mentioned GW’s Battleground Poll.

The Washington Post (12/28) noted a GW report analyzing research by The Institute for Women's Policy Research regarding mandating sick leave pay.

John Banzhaf, professor of law, was quoted in the San Francisco Chronicle (12/19) regarding George Mitchell’s career in an article regarding the Mitchell Report.

Thomas Blanton, National Security Archive, was quoted in The Washington Post (12/19) regarding a bill approved by Congress that would strengthen the Freedom of Information Act and punish government agencies late in fulfilling requests for public documents.

Frank Cilluffo, associate vice president for homeland security, was quoted in the New York Sun (12/20) regarding Sayyed Imam al-Sharif’s call for his followers to end their military jihad.

Joseph Cordes, director of the Trachtenberg School of Public Policy and Public Administration and professor of economics, public policy and public administration, & international affairs, was quoted in The Wall Street Journal (12/29) regarding the high sales tax on art.

Amitai Etzioni, University Professor and professor of international affairs, wrote an article posted on huffingtonpost.com (12/21) entitled, “Like a Whorehouse.”
Julie Germany, director, GW’s Institute for Politics, Democracy, and the Internet, was quoted in nz.Entertainment.yahoo.com (12/16) regarding the role of text messaging in the 2008 presidential race.

Eric Hoffman, professor of pediatrics, was quoted on medicalnewstoday.com (12/29) in an article regarding how personalized medicine will alter the treatment of genetic disorders.

Peter Hotez, chair of the department of microbiology and professor of microbiology and tropical medicine, was quoted in Los Angeles Times (12/31) regarding parasitic infection in the United States and on online.wsj.com (12/31) regarding a market-driven vaccine plan.

Karl Inderfurth, John O. Rankin Professor of the Practice of International Affairs, was quoted in Newsday (12/29) regarding the assassination of Benazir Bhuatto. Christian Science Monitor (12/24) posted his op-ed entitled, “Washington’s phobia of global treaties.”

Dennis Johnson, associate dean of the graduate school of political management and professor of political management, was quoted in The Washington Post (12/22) regarding the use of the word momentum in the 2008 presidential race.

Orin Kerr, associate professor of law, was quoted on denverpost.com (12/18) from a Minneapolis Star article regarding unsecure Wi-Fi networks.

David Michaels, research professor of environmental occupational health, was quoted on macroworldinvestor.com (12/18) regarding ConAgra’s removal of diacetyl from their popcorn products.

Rachel Moon, associate professor of pediatrics, was quoted in the Detroit News (12/18) regarding whether sharing the bed with infants is safe.

Kathryn Newcomer, associate director of the school of public policy and public administration and professor of public policy and public administration, was interviewed on Federal News Radio (12/22).

Leo Ribuffo, professor of history, was quoted in the St. Petersburg Times (12/21) regarding politician’s mistakes when discussing history during public speeches.

Stephen Saltzburg, director of the litigation and dispute resolution program and Wallace and Beverley Woodbury University Professor of Law, was quoted on rawstory.com (12/20) from a hearing focused on the Justice Department's role in the destruction of videotapes and the legality of torture tactics. The Santa Barbara News-Press (12/20) quoted him regarding the Third Church of Christ, Scientist in the District of Columbia. The church was recently bestowed with historic landmark status by the D.C. Historic Preservation Review Board.

Steven Schooner, senior associate dean for academic affairs in the law school and associate professor of law, was quoted on FOX news (12/22) regarding how NASA handled a conflict of interest during the process of purchasing a probe to Mars.

Joshua Schwartz, professor of law, was quoted By Reuters (12/26) regarding the Bush administration’s plan to handle the subprime mortgage crisis.

David Shinn, part-time faculty, was quoted on reliefweb.int (12/24) in a Voice of America article regarding a political solution to the Ethiopian occupation in Somalia.

Daniel Solove, associate professor of law, was quoted on TechNewsWorld (technewsworld.com) (12/17) regarding privacy in an article reporting results from a study investigating how people monitor online information about themselves. The San Francisco Chronicle (12/30) mentioned his book on privacy laws in a profile of Joanne McNabb, chief of the State Office of Privacy Protection.

Jonathan Turley, J.B. and Maurice C. Shapiro Professor of Public Service Law, was interviewed by CNN regarding a story in the New York Times that reported at least four White House attorneys in the Bush administration were involved in discussions regarding whether to destroy Al Qaeda tapes. CNN (12/20) quoted him regarding how states deal with consensual sex among teens in an article regarding the recently announced pregnancy of Jamie Lynn Spears. Antiwar.com (12/21) quoted him regarding the highly publicized arrest of South Florida University professor and pro-Palestinian activist Sami Al-Arian's during the winter of 2003. NPR interviewed him for Talk of the Nation (12/20) regarding The Castle Doctrine. The Pueblo Chieftain of Colo., (12/22) quoted him regarding a new tax imposed on strip club goers in Texas.

Susan F. Wood, research professor of environmental and occupational health, wrote an article posted in The Boston Globe (12/17) regarding the State Children’s Health Insurance Program.