GW In the News
July 1-15

The Washington Post (7/1) noted GW’s dual degree program in systems engineering and engineering management.

Health & Medicine Week (7/2) published a trend article outlining recent GW research.

Time.com (7/4) mentioned GW’s funding of Youth Voter Strategies, an organization aimed at increasing youth voter turnout.

News-leader.com (7/5) and tusconcitizen.com (7/7) noted a study by GW’s Institute for Politics, Democracy & the Internet.

TechNewsWorld.net (7/6) noted a report from GW’s Homeland Security Policy Institute regarding terrorists’ increasing use of the internet.

Elpasotimes.com (7/8) and kaisernetwork.org (7/11) noted “Expecting Success: Excellence in Cardiac Care,” a GW-directed program.

Pharma Business Week (7/8) published a trend article noting recent GW research.

Medicalnewstoday.com (7/11) noted a GW report regarding the number of Medicare beneficiaries with mental illnesses.

Management-issues.com (7/12) noted a GW study regarding boss-employee relations.

Poly.union.rpi.edu (7/14) mentioned GW’s notification phone system used for campus emergencies.

Roll Call (7/12) noted GW’s Graduate School of Political Management regarding its 20th anniversary this summer.

Hany Aly, associate professor of pediatrics and of obstetrics and gynecology, was quoted in Drug Week (7/13) regarding research in perinatology.

Jeffrey Axelrad, part-time faculty, was quoted in The Washington Post (7/5) regarding Reeves Restaurant and Bakery.

Phyllis Borzi, research professor, was quoted in Employee Benefit News (7/1) regarding state health care reform laws.
William Chambliss, professor of sociology, was interviewed on CNN: CNN Newsroom (7/14) and CNN: Sunday Morning (7/15) regarding why a burglar offered wine and cheese would decide to cut his crime short.

Steve Charnovitz, associate professor of law, was quoted in American Prospect (7/1) regarding his 2004 law-journal article regarding replacing treaties with laws.

Frank Cilluffo, associate vice president for homeland security, was quoted on newsday.com (7/12) regarding a U.S. intelligence assessment stating that Al-Qaeda is now at its strongest since 9/11. Newsday (7/15) quoted him regarding anti-terror radiation sensors.

Jeffrey Jerome Cohen, chair of the department of English and professor of English and human sciences, was quoted in The Chronicle of Higher Education (7/6) regarding academic medievalists.

John Duffy, Oswald Symister Colclough Research Professor of Law, was quoted in Telecommunications Reports (7/1) regarding his appointment as adjunct fellow to the Progress & Freedom Foundation. Nytimes.com (7/14) quoted him regarding James Bessen’s and Michael Meurer’s critique of the patent system, Do Patents Work?

Robert M. Dunn, professor of economics, was quoted on ncpa.org (7/6) regarding Mexico’s declining fertility rate.

Douglas Frechtling, professor of tourism studies, was quoted in The Baltimore Sun (7/10) regarding The Baltimore Area Convention and Visitors Association’s using regular residents for online video advertisements.

Vittorio Gallo, professor of pediatrics, was quoted on medicalnewstoday.com (7/12) regarding the discovery of a brain protein that could improve brain regeneration in newborns.

Richard Grinker, professor of anthropology & international affairs and human sciences, wrote an article posted on online.wsj.com (7/2) regarding autism awareness.

Karl Hobbs, men’s basketball coach, was noted on Canestimes.com (7/1) and katv.com (7/1 7/8), SUAthletics.com (7/6), gozags.cstv.com (7/11), usolympicteam.com (7/11), 9wsyr.com (7/14) for his position as assistant coach for the 2007 USA U19 World Championship Team.

Peter Hotez, chair of the department of microbiology and professor of microbiology and tropical medicine, was quoted in People Magazine (7/2) regarding the first case alleging that childhood vaccines cause autism.

Dennis Johnson, associate dean of the Graduate School of Political Management and professor of political management, was quoted on nytimes.com (7/14) regarding political campaign consultants.

Bret Jones, managing director technology operations & engineering, was quoted on computerworld.com (7/15) regarding GW’s testing of dual-mode phones.

Orin Kerr, associate professor of law, was quoted in Tulsa World (7/6) regarding President Bush’s commutation of Scooter Libby’s prison sentence and in New Scientist (7/7) regarding location-based services on cell phones. The New York Times (7/7) quoted him regarding a federal appeals court dismissal of a secret wiretapping case.
Kristin Lamoureux, research associate, was quoted in The Globe & Mail (7/7) regarding uncontrolled tourism.

Ira Lupu, associate dean for faculty development, Law School, and F. Elwood and Eleanor Davis Professor of Law, was quoted on christiancentury.org (7/15) regarding conservative religious organizations’ applause of the last Supreme Court term.

David Michaels, research professor of environmental occupational health, was quoted in The Washington Post (7/11) and on hivplusmag.com (7/12) regarding former Surgeon General Richard Carmona’s claim that the Bush administration silenced him on public health issues.

Veronica Miller, associate research professor of prevention and community health, was quoted in Biotech Business Week (7/1) regarding HIV research.

Fitzhugh Mullan, professor of health policy, was quoted on theeagle.com (7/7) and in Chicago Sun-Times (7/8) regarding foreign-born doctors and Biotech Week (7/11) noted his appearance in Salud!, a film evaluating Cuba’s health care system.

Jerrold Post, professor of political psychology & international affairs, was quoted on pittsburghlive.com (7/1) regarding Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez.

Jeffrey Rosen, professor of law, wrote an article published in Time (7/9) regarding a rightward shift in the Supreme Court and pbs.org (7/12) posted his interview regarding a proposed surveillance plan for New York City.

Steven Schooner, senior associate dean for academic affairs, Law School and associate professor of law, was quoted in Tampa Tribune (7/6) regarding U.S. Special Operations Command’s increase of its acquisitions workforce.

David Leigh Shambaugh, professor of political science and international affairs, wrote an article posted on the International Herald Tribune’s Web site (7/6) regarding talks of democratic reforms in China. CNN: Lou Dobbs Tonight (7/10) hosted him regarding charges that communist China is hiding the growth of its military.

Janet Steele, associate professor of media and public affairs, wrote an article posted in Foreign Policy (7/1) regarding a story of corruption in Malaysia.

Jonathan Turley, J.B. and Maurice C. Shapiro Professor of Public Service Law, was quoted in kuwaittimes.net (7/1) regarding President George Bush’s Supreme Court legacy. Nydailynews.com (7/3) quoted him regarding what lies ahead for Scooter Libby and Capitolhillblues.com (7/10) quoted him regarding President Bush’s claim of executive privilege. Abcnews.go.com (7/12), news.findlaw.com (7/12), sanluisobispo.com (7/12), wtol.com (7/13), and Guardian Unlimited (7/12) quoted Turley regarding Bush’s refusal to let Former White House Counsel Harriet Miers testify in the case of the dismissals of federal prosecutors.

Robert Tuttle, D.R. & S Kirschner Berz Research Professor of Law and Religion, was quoted on thestate.com (7/7) and wilmingtonstar.com (7/8) regarding prison ministry programs.

Guanyu Wang, assistant research professor of physics, was quoted in Science Letter (7/10) regarding a computer model which reproduces all three phases of HIV infection.
Susan Wood, research professor of environmental and occupational health, was quoted in The Washington Post (7/13), Seattle Times (7/13), Times Union (7/14), The Ledger (7/14), and in Pittsburgh Post Gazette (7/13) regarding surges in the sale of the morning-after pill Plan B.

Mona Zaghloul, interim chair of the department of electrical and computer engineering and professor of engineering and applied science, was quoted in Stem Cell Week (7/2) regarding stem cell research.