GW In the News
June 1-15, 2007

Prospect.org (6/1) noted GW’s campaign 2008 site, Democracy in Action P2008.

The Washington Post (6/3) mentioned GW’s agreement with Montgomery College to guarantee its advanced students with a good G.P.A. an annual scholarship.

Biotech Business Week (6/4), Pharma Business Week (6/4) and Science Letter (6/12) published trend articles regarding recent GW study findings highlighted in medical journals.

Somalinet.com (6/4) noted Partnership for Eritrea, a joint project of the nonprofit Physicians for Peace and the GW Medical Center.

Schoolbuyeronline.com (6/5) noted GW’s School of Public Health and Health Services regarding the Strategies to Prevent and Overcome (STOP) Obesity Alliance.

Washingtoncitiypresser.com (6/5) mentioned GW’s new restaurant, Tonic, that replaced Quigley’s Pharmacy.

The Washington Times (6/6) noted GW Law School’s Animal Welfare Project in an article regarding dogfighting and The Washington Post (6/7) noted GW Law School’s pro bono program where students work on government legislation.

The San Diego Union-Tribune (6/10) noted GW for its contribution and support of the Duke Ellington School of the Arts.

Bellinghamherald.com (6/13) profiled a Washington senior who is headed to GW in the fall.

Susan Aaronson, adjunct professor of strategic management and public policy, was quoted on latimes.com (6/14) regarding Congress’s move to push China regarding its currency.

Kathleen Barr, director, Young Voters Strategies, was quoted in Denver Post (6/3) Carlsbad Current Argus (6/3), and on abcnews.go.com (6/5) regarding the impact of young voters.

Edward Berkowitz, professor of history and public policy and public administration, was quoted in Pahrump Valley Times (6/13) regarding social security.

Reem Berro, research associate, was quoted in Biotech Business Week (6/11) regarding HIV research.
David Brunori, research professor of public policy, was quoted in State Legislatures (6/1) regarding property taxes.

James Chamberlain, associate professor of pediatrics, was quoted on lexl8.com (6/4), Boston Globe (6/4), healthcentral.com (6/4) and kaisernetwork.org (6/5) regarding study findings that white children are admitted to the hospital after an emergency room visit at a higher rate than Black or Hispanic children.

Frank Cilluffo, associate vice president for homeland security, was quoted in The New York Times (6/15) regarding combating “homegrown” radicalization.

Donald Clarke, professor of law, was quoted in Time International Asia Ed. (6/11) regarding China’s legal system.

Gene Cohen, professor of health care sciences, was quoted on capecodtimes.com (6/14) and on washingtontimes.com (6/1) regarding the health benefits of engaging in creative activities for the elderly.

Jeffrey Jerome Cohen, chair of the department of English and professor of English and human sciences, was noted in brisbanetimes.com.au (6/11) regarding his blog.

Carol Darr, director, Institute of Politics, Democracy, and the Internet, was quoted on popmatters.com (6/15) regarding who is in control of political commercials and on inrich.com (6/9) and in The Richmond Times-Dispatch (6/10) in an article regarding Rep. Eric I. Cantor’s blog.

Christopher Deering, chair of the department of political science and professor of political science, was quoted in Denver Post (6/11) regarding the power of lobbyists and on Kentucky.com (6/12), and on hispanicbusiness.com (6/12) regarding the trial of Alberto Gonzales.

Sheila Driscoll, assistant director of career development at the law school, was quoted in Miami Daily Business Review (6/5), Palm Beach Daily Business Review (6/5), and Broward Daily Business Review (6/5) regarding law economy.

Amitai Etzioni, University Professor and professor of international affairs, wrote an article posted on nationalinterest.org (6/6) regarding U.S.-Russia relations. Huffingtonpost.com (6/12) published his op-ed regarding the problem with dividing Muslims into two dichotomous groups.

Seble Frehywot, assistant research professor of health policy, was quoted on kaisernetwork.org (6/15), Africasia (6/13), and on Agence France Presse (6/13) from a School of Public Health and Health Services report regarding non-physician clinicians and prospects for their training to alleviate health care worker shortage in Africa.

Tee Guidotti, chair of the department of environmental occupational health, acting director of the center for risk science & public health, and professor of environmental occupational health, was quoted in Mental Health Weekly Digest (6/11) regarding the mental health of children and lead exposure.

Harry Harding, University Professor of International Affairs, was quoted in Daily Yomiuri (6/8) regarding China’s one-child policy in an article on the 17th Asian Corporate Conference.
Henry Hertzfeld, research professor of space policy and international affairs, was quoted in Flight International (6/12) regarding Europe’s space policy.

Karl Hobbs, men’s basketball coach, was noted on usolympicteam.com (6/1) regarding his position as assistant coach of the USA 2007 U19 World Championship Team.

Dennis Johnson, associate dean of the graduate school of political management and professor of political management, was quoted on detnews.com (6/10) in an article regarding David Bonoir, director of John Edwards’ presidential bid.

Paul Maniscalco, senior research scientist, was quoted on securityinfowatch.com (6/1) and in The Boston Globe (6/3) regarding the security guard industry.

James Miller, director of the department of American Studies and professor of English and of American Studies, wrote a review posted on boston.com (6/5) of Arnold Rampersad’s Ralph Ellison: A Biography.

Todd Miller, assistant professor of exercise science, was quoted in Sunday Independent (6/3) regarding YouTube exercise videos.

Wayne Miller, professor of exercise science, was quoted on latimes.com (6/1) regarding electronic muscle stimulation (EMS).

Celeste Monforton, research associate, was quoted on baltimoresun.com (6/3) regarding asbestos contamination.

Fitzhugh Mullan, professor of health policy, was noted on kaisernetwork.org (6/15), Africasia (6/13), and on Agence France Presse (6/13) from a School of Public Health and Health Services report regarding non-physician clinicians and prospects for their training to alleviate health care worker shortage in Africa. Content.hamptonroads.com (6/8) and The Virginian-Pilot & The Ledger Star quoted him from remarks on a two-day global health summit in Virginia Beach. Thenews.com.pk (6/10) quoted him from his study, “The Metrics of the Physician Brain Drain.”
Spencer Overton, associate professor of law, was quoted in The Christian Century (6/12) regarding voter ID laws.

David Parenti, professor of medicine, was quoted in The Virginian-Pilot & The Ledger-Star (6/3) and in Sun-Sentinel (6/10) regarding traveling with the elderly.

Brian Richmond, associate professor of anthropology, was quoted in The Guardian (6/1), hindu.com (6/1) and on The Statesman Online (6/5) regarding a new theory regarding the evolution of humans and bipedalism.

Theodore Rosen, assistant professor of management, was quoted on examiner-enterprise.com (6/2) regarding virtual meetings in an article about how to make meetings more efficient.

Michael Ryan, director of the Creative & Innovative Economy Center at the law school, was quoted in Technology Daily PM (6/8) regarding piracy.

Stephen Saltzburger, director of the litigation and dispute resolution program and Wallace and Beverley Woodbury University Professor of Law, was interviewed on ABC News: World News with Charles Gibson (6/11) and quoted on newsbusters.org (6/11) and SBS 6.30pm TV World News Transcripts (6/12) regarding a ruling that the government cannot detain civilians indefinitely in the US, even if they are possible terrorists.

Joan Schaffner, associate professor of law, was quoted on wtopnews.com (6/6) regarding GW Law School’s Animal Welfare Project in an article regarding dog fighting.

Tracy Schario, director of media relations, was quoted in Bizjournals.com (6/1) regarding GW’s use of AlertDC messaging system.

Steven Schooner, senior associate dean for academic affairs in the law school and associate professor of law, was quoted on usatoday.com (6/10) a lawsuit filed against a private security contracting company, Blackwater USA, by the families of men violently killed in Fallujah while on the job.

Nina Gilden Seavey, assistant research professor of history and of media and public affairs, was quoted in pjstar.com (6/10) regarding Latino groups’ demand for Ken Burns to add material related to the Hispanic experience to his World War II documentary.

David Shinn was interviewed by BBC Network: Africa Radio (6/6) about Somalia.

John Sides, assistant professor of political science, was quoted in Reuters News (6/12) Gulf Times (6/12), National Post (6/13), and in The St. Petersburg Times (Russia) (6/13) regarding “campaign fatigue”.
Bruce Siegel, research professor of health policy, was quoted on kansascity.com (6/9), signonsandiego.com (6/9), Newsmax.com (6/10), Fort Wayne Journal Gazette (6/10), Lansing State Journal (6/10), Charleston Gazette (6/11), blogher.com (6/11), and Guardian Unlimited (6/9), and Wyoming News (6/12) regarding the loss of medical facilities for low-income patients and the overcrowding of emergency rooms.

Heather Smith, research associate, was quoted in Cox News Service (6/6) Mywesttexas.com (6/10) and on Patriot-News (6/13) regarding growing numbers of youth voters.

James Starrs, professor of law & of forensic sciences and David B. Weaver Research Professor of Law, was quoted on abclocal.go.com (6/1) regarding the myth of a bloody handprint on the wall of a jail cell in the Poconos.

Emmanuel Teitelbaum, assistant professor of political science and international affairs published “In the Grip of a Green Giant: How the Rural Sector Tamed Organized Labor in India” in the June 2007 issue of Comparative Political Studies.

Stephen Joel Trachtenberg, president of the university, wrote an op-ed posted on insidehighered.com (6/14) regarding the case of Marilee Jones, an administrator at Massachusetts Institute of Technology who stepped down after the administration found that she had lied on her resume years ago when applying for her position. The Chronicle of Higher Education (6/8) posted his letter regarding Congress’ search for “offsets” to help lower-income families pay for college. US Fed News (6/12) noted a resolution honoring Trachtenberg’s accomplishments as the president of GW.

Robert Traynham, part-time faculty, was interviewed on NPR: News & Notes (6/13) regarding the 2008 presidential campaign.

Jonathan Turley, J.B. and Maurice C. Shapiro Professor of Public Service Law, was interviewed on CNN: Lou Dobbs This Week (6/2) regarding the Bush administration’s refusal to allow private beef companies to test their product for mad cow disease and was quoted on france24.com (6/4) and gulf-times.com (6/5) regarding military judges throwing out charges against two Guantanamo Bay detainees. The Christian Science Monitor (6/6), nola.com (6/6), and Times Picayune (6/6) quoted him and he wrote an op-ed published in Roll Call (6/7) regarding the case against Rep. William Jefferson of Louisiana. MSNBC: Countdown (6/7) quoted him regarding The Military Commissions Act. Foxnews.com (6/10) quoted him regarding a federal case surrounding information sharing. Kansascity.com (6/10) and Thehill.com (6/13) quoted him regarding the trial of Attorney General Alberto Gonzales. CNN: Lou Dobbs This Week (6/11) interviewed him regarding the case of Genarlow Wilson, a 17-year-old young man sentenced to 10 years in prison for what his lawyers claim was consensual sex with a 15-year-old. In These Times (6/12) quoted him regarding the D.C. Voting Rights Bill. USA Today (6/12) and Yahoo! News (6/13) printed his op-ed regarding childrens’ innate sense of justice.

Ronald Weitzer, professor of sociology, was quoted in The New York Times (6/2) regarding a study investigating the impact of race on police behavior.
Arthur Wilmarth, professor of law, wrote an op-ed published by American Banker (6/1) and Financial Times (6/5) regarding New York attorney general Andrew Cuomo’s investigation into the student loan industry.

John Wilson, associate professor of higher education administration, was quoted on blackcollegewire.org (6/1) regarding a crisis of moral purpose among black college students.

Yilu Zhou, assistant professor of information systems and technology, was quoted on science-spirit.org (6/13) regarding terrorists’ use of the internet.