Dear John:

Thank you very much for your nice note. I, too, enjoyed our breakfast. It was very enlightening. I left feeling I had learned something about Central America and also about your character, which I admire. It was not an easy group, but you conducted yourself with class. I was impressed.

It seems like things must be very interesting down your way right now. I appreciate your offer to visit, and within the next month or two would like to take you up on it. Are there any dates which would be particularly good for you?

Best regards,

Bree
