

ALLIDA M. BLACK
2001 N. Kenilworth Street
Arlington, Virginia 22205
(703) 536-6058 home (703) 237-8506 fax
amblack@gwu.edu

CURRICULUM VITAE

Education:

Ph.D., George Washington University, 1993
BA, Emory University, Political Science, June 1974

Selected Honors:

University Medal, Roosevelt University, June 2006.
Doctor of Humane Letters, DePaul University, June 16, 2001
Person of Vision Award, Arlington County Commission of the Status of Women, March 22, 2001
Millennium Medalist, The George Washington University, September 14, 2000
USIA Fellow, Sao Paulo, Brazil, September 2000 and October, 1999
Schlesinger Fellow, The Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt Institute, May 1999- September 1999
JNG Finley Postdoctoral Fellow, George Mason University, August 1997-May 1998
Postdoctoral Research Fellow, National Museum of American History, May 1997- May 1998
Faculty Research Award, Penn State Harrisburg, 1996
Columbia University Press nominee for Pulitzer Prize in History, 1996
James A. Jordan Award for Outstanding Dedication and Achievement in Education, Penn State Harrisburg, 1995

Academic Positions:

Editor and Project Director, The Eleanor Roosevelt Papers, 1999 -
Research Professor of History and International Affairs, The George Washington University, May 1999 - present
Visiting Assistant Professor of American Studies, Franklin and Marshall College, July 1998 - July 1999
Finley Postdoctoral Fellow in History, George Mason University, August 1997- May 1998
Fellow, National Museum of American History, Smithsonian Institution, May 1997-present
Visiting Assistant Professor of History, The University of Baltimore, August 1996-June 1997
Visiting Assistant Professor of American Studies and History, Pennsylvania State University Harrisburg, August 1993-May 1996

Selected Consultations:

Permanent Museum Exhibits Committee, The Franklin D. Roosevelt Presidential Library, June 2000-present
Consultant, "A Rendezvous with History," a visitors' film for the Franklin D Roosevelt Library and Museum, 2003
Education Consultant, National Park Service, The Roosevelt-Vanderbilt Historic Site, April 2000 - present
Consultant, White House Historical Association, White House Bicentennial Conference, 1999-2000.
Curator, Eleanor Roosevelt Exhibition, Beijing Plus Five Conference, The United Nations, June 2000
Curator, Eleanor Roosevelt Exhibition, Washington National Cathedral, April 1998-January 1999
Consultant, American Association for the United Nations and the Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt Institute, 50th Anniversary Celebration of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights Summer 1997
Advisory Board, Eleanor Roosevelt Documentary, WGBH-Boston, Winter 1996- Summer 2000
Advisory Board, The Eleanor Roosevelt Encyclopedia, Spring 1996-Fall 2000.
Consultant, Marion Anderson Documentary, WETA-TV, Winter 1990

Selected Publications:

The Eleanor Roosevelt Papers: The Human Rights Years, 1945-1948 (Charles Scribner's Sons, 2008)
Courage in A Dangerous World: The Political Writings of Eleanor Roosevelt. (Columbia University Press, March 1999)
Casting Her Own Shadow: Eleanor Roosevelt and the Shaping of Postwar Liberalism, 1945 - 1962. (Columbia University Press, February 1996) Submitted by CUP to Pulitzer Prize Committee for History.
"What I hope to leave behind": The Essential Essays of Eleanor Roosevelt. (Carlson Publishing Inc., September 1995)
Human Rights issue, Magazine of History (Organization of American Historians, April 2008)

In Process:

Human Rights: Pages From History: (Oxford University Press, 2008)

Eleanor Roosevelt: A Yet To Be Titled Political Biography (Oxford University Press, 2009)

Web Sites:

"The Eleanor Roosevelt Papers," www.gwu.edu/~erpapers

"Eleanor Roosevelt, John Kennedy and the Election of 1960," adh.sc.edu

"Teaching Eleanor Roosevelt," www.nps.gov/elro

Selected Articles:

Eleanor Roosevelt related articles for America at War, American National Biography, The Encyclopedia of Genocide, The Encyclopedia of Social Welfare, The New Deal Encyclopedia, and The Oxford Guide to Military History (2002-2003)

"Politics and Crises: The Partnership of Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt," Two Hundred Years at the White House: Actors and Observers, edited by William Seale (Northeastern University Press, 2003).

"Eleanor Roosevelt," Democracy Is a Discussion, III. Sondra Myers, editor. Open Society Institute, 2001.

Guest editor, "The Modern First Lady," History: A Magazine for Teachers, published by the Organization of American Historians, December 2000, including my articles, "Beyond Projects: The Modern First Lady and Public Policy," and "Assessing Their Roles: The Historiography of First Ladies." April 2001.

"Human Touch," American Lawyer, March 2001.

"Eleanor Roosevelt and Civil Rights," The Eleanor Roosevelt Encyclopedia, edited by Maurine Beasley, Greenwood Press, 2000.

"Struggling with Icons: Memorializing Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt. A Review of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial." The Public Historian, Vol. 21, No. 1 (Winter 1999).

"Defining Eleanor, Defining Power: Eleanor Roosevelt, Race, Rights, and World War II," FDR and The Modern Presidency. Mark J. Rozell and William D. Pederson, editors. Praeger, 1997.

"Democracy Begins at Home: Eleanor Roosevelt, African Americans, and the Home Front in World War II." Social Education, September 1996.

"Anna Eleanor Roosevelt," American First Ladies: Their Lives and Legacies, Lewis Gould, editor, Garland Press, March 1996, pages 422-448.

"A Reluctant But Persistent Warrior: Eleanor Roosevelt and the Early Civil Rights Movement," Women in the Civil Rights Movement: Trailblazers and Torchbearers, 1941-1965. Series Number Sixteen: Studies in the History of Black Women in America. Darlene Clark Hine, editor. Carlson Publications, 1990; University of Indiana Press, 1993. Reprinted in Multicultural Education, Transformative Knowledge and Action. James A. Banks, editor. Teachers College Press, Columbia University, 1995.

"Championing a Champion: Eleanor Roosevelt and the Marian Anderson Freedom Concert," Presidential Studies Quarterly, October 1990.

SELECTED PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES:

Trustee, Liberian Education Trust, 2005 -

Liaison, Organization of American Historians to National Council for History Education, 2004 - 2006

Board Member, The Eleanor Roosevelt Legacy, 2001 - present

Board Member, Save America's Treasures Val-Kill Restoration Project, 2000-present

Vice-President, National Women's History Project, 2000-2002

Board Member, Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt Institute, 2001-present

Member, Editorial Advisory Board, H-Net New Deal List Serve, 1999-present