Crisis in the Crimea:
Implications for Ukraine, Russia, and the West with

Volodymyr Dubovyk, Odessa I. I. Mechnikov National University
Oleksandr Fisun, V. N. Karazin Kharkiv National University
Dmitry Gorenburg, CNA; Harvard University
Viatcheslav Morozov, University of Tartu, Estonia

Moderator: Cory Welt, The George Washington University

Russia's invasion of Ukraine and threat to annex the Crimea have grave implications for Ukraine, Russia, and Western policy toward the region. Please join this international panel to discuss Ukrainian reactions to the invasion and the country's political prospects; the logic of Russian actions; and implications for EU and US policy.

Friday, March 21, 2014
3:30 - 5:30 pm
Lindner Commons
1957 E Street NW, Room 602

Click Here to RSVP

Please RSVP by Tuesday, March 18.

This event is on the record.

Contact: Olga Novikova, novikova@gwu.edu