Politics and Law in the Russian Regions
Part of IERES’ Behind the Headlines Series

with

Pavel Kononenko, Assistant Professor, St. Petersburg State University

Prof. Kononenko’s talk will focus on sources of legal diversity in the Russian regions and will highlight how in spite of the tendency to homogenize and control the Russian political landscape, regional legislatures still produce varying amounts of laws that, in turn, differ in quality. Why are some regions producing more bills than others? Why do some produce laws which the federal Ministry of Justice later declares "unconstitutional"?

Pavel Kononenko is Assistant Professor, Department of Problems of Interdisciplinary Synthesis in the Field of Social Sciences and Humanities, Smolny Faculty of Liberal Arts and Sciences, St. Petersburg State University.

Friday, April 10, 2015
4:00 pm – 5:00 pm
Voesar Conference Room
1957 E St. NW, Suite 412
Please RSVP at http://go.gwu.edu/kononenko
This event is on the record.