Belarus’ Political Prospects
A Panel Discussion with Tribute to Vitali Silitsky

Featuring:
Dzianis Melyantsou
Belarusian Institute for Strategic Studies
Arkady Moshes
Finnish Institute of International Affairs
Mitchell A. Orenstein
Johns Hopkins University
Lucan Way
University of Toronto

With opening remarks and tribute to Vitali Silitsky

Vitali Silitsky, a prominent and accomplished young Belarusian political scientist and democracy advocate, tragically passed away this June. Colleagues and friends at CSIS, the National Endowment for Democracy, and PONARS Eurasia invite you to attend a discussion of the current situation in Belarus that provides an up-to-date analysis of events on the ground, combined with an appreciation of the contributions that Vitali made to his native country and to the political science discipline.

Thursday, September 8, 2011
11:30a.m. - 1:30 p.m.
Basement Conference Rooms A and B
CSIS 1800 K. St. NW, Washington, DC 20006
Please RSVP to REP@csis.org
Lunch will be served.

Co-sponsored by CSIS Russia and Eurasia Program and the National Endowment for Democracy