STATE OF RHODE ISLAND
IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY
JANUARY SESSION, A.D. 2002

A N A C T
RELATING TO COMPENSATION FOR WORLD WAR II FORCED LABOR

Introduced By: Senator Kevin A. Breene
Date Introduced: January 29, 2002
Referred To: Joint Veterans' Affairs

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 9 of the General Laws entitled "Courts And Civil Procedure -- Procedure Generally" is hereby amended by adding thereto the following chapter:

CHAPTER 1.1
WORLD WAR II VETERANS' COMPENSATION FOR FORCED LABOR

9-1.1-1. Legislative intent and purpose. -- Thousands of victims of Nazi persecution, and the heirs of victims of Nazi persecution, are residents of the United States. These victims of Nazi persecution have been deprived of their entitlement to compensation for their labor and for injuries sustained while performing that labor as forced or slave laborers prior to and during the Second World War. The United States and the individual states, including the state of Rhode Island, have a moral and public policy interest in assuring that its residents and citizens are given a reasonable opportunity to claim their entitlement to compensation for forced or slave labor performed prior to and during the Second World War.

It is the intent of the general assembly, to compensate victims or families of victims of forced or slave labor by firms with proven patterns of slave labor which served as the basis of their ill-gotten wealth.

9-1.1-2. Definitions. -- (a) “Second World War slave labor victim” means any person taken from a concentration camp or ghetto or diverted from transportation to a concentration camp or from a ghetto to perform labor without pay for any period of time between 1929 and 1945, by the Nazi regime, its allies and sympathizers, or enterprises transacting business in any of the area occupied by or under control of the Nazi regime or its allies and sympathizers.
(b) “Second World War forced labor victim” means any person who was a member of the civilian population conquered by the Nazi regime, its allies or sympathizers, or prisoner-of-war of the Nazi regime, its allies or sympathizers, forced to perform labor without pay for any period of time between 1929 and 1945, by the Nazi regime, its allies and sympathizers, or enterprises transacting business in any of the areas occupied by or under control of the Nazi regime or its allies and sympathizers.

(c) “Compensation” means the present value of wages and benefits that individuals should have been paid and damages for injuries sustained in connection with the labor performed. Present value shall be calculated on the basis of the market value of the services at the time they were performed, plus interest from the time the services were performed, compounded annually to date of full payment without diminution for wartime or postwar currency devaluation.

9-1.1-3 Cause of action. -- Any Second World War slave labor victim, or heir of a Second World War slave labor victim, and any Second World War forced labor victim, or heir of a Second World War forced labor victim, may bring an action to recover damages for injuries sustained or compensation for labor performed as either a Second World War slave labor victim or a Second World War forced labor victim from any entity or successor in interest thereof, for whom that labor was performed, either directly or through a subsidiary or affiliate. Any action brought under this chapter shall be brought in the court of the county where the plaintiff resides or closest thereto which court shall have jurisdiction over that action until its completion or resolution.

9-1.1-4. Limitation of action. -- Any action brought under the provisions of this section 9-1.1-3 shall not be dismissed for failure to comply with applicable statute of limitations, if the action is commenced on or before December 31, 2012.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon passage.
